ABOUT MYSELF

Environmental Toxicology master's student at the University of Duisburg-Essen with research experience in freshwater ecosystem functioning, microbial decomposition processes, and ecological data analysis using R. Interested in aquatic ecotoxicology, multiple stressor ecology, and environmental risk assessment.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Research Center One Health Ruhr – University of Duisburg-Essen - Germany, Essen

Research Assistant

[10/02/2025 - Current]

- Field sampling in freshwater stream ecosystems
- Collection and processing of macroinvertebrate and environmental samples
- Statistical analysis of ecological data using R
- Development of mixed-effects models for ecosystem data
- Interpretation of microbial and macroinvertebrate contributions to leaf litter decomposition
- Preparation of scientific reports and data visualizations

Malengo gGmbH - Germany, Berlin (Remote)

Volunteer support person

[14/08/2023 - Current]

- Mentor Ugandan students applying to German universities
- Guide students in selecting appropriate study programs
- Support the preparation of university applications and admission documents
- Guide academic opportunities and integration into the German higher education system.

Rewe Digital - Bochum

Commissioner Lager

[12/08/2024 - Current]

- Arranging warehouse articles in an organized system, picking customer orders, and preparing them for dispatch with delivery drivers
- Performing quality assurance checks on perishable goods to ensure freshness, correct storage, and compliance with store standards

EDUCATION & TRAINING

Master of Science (M.Sc.) in Environmental Toxicology

University of Duisburg-Essen [02/10/2023 - 05/10/2026]

City: Essen | Country: Germany

Level in EQF: 7

- Ecotoxicology and environmental risk assessment
- Analytical environmental chemistry and contaminant analysis
- Aquatic ecology and freshwater ecosystem functioning
- Multiple stressor analysis in stream ecosystems
- Field sampling and ecological monitoring of freshwater systems
- Statistical modelling and ecological data analysis in R (mixed-effects models, environmental data integration)
- Analysis of microbial and macroinvertebrate contributions to leaf litter decomposition in streams

Master's Thesis:

Effects of multiple stressors on microbial and total leaf decomposition across stream catchments in Germany.

Bachelor of Science in Applied Biology (partial studies)

Hochschule Bonn-Rhein-Sieg, University of Applied Sciences [26/09/2022 - 23/10/2023]

City: Rheinbach / Sankt Augustin | Country: Germany

Level in EQF: 6

- General biology and biological systems
- General and organic chemistry
- Mathematics and statistics for life sciences
- Microbiology and laboratory skills
- Human biology and histology
- Basic laboratory methods and scientific data interpretation

Bachelor of Science (B.Sc.) in Industrial Microbiology/Microbiology

Imo State University [10/10/2016 - 20/09/2020]

City: Owerri | Country: Nigeria

Final grade: Second Class | Level in EQF: 6

- Microbiology and microbial ecology
- Isolation and identification of microorganisms from environmental water samples
- Microbiological techniques, including serial dilution, plating, and microbial enumeration
- Use of selective culture media (Nutrient agar, MacConkey agar, EMB agar, TCBS agar, Sabouraud dextrose agar)
- Gram staining and biochemical identification of bacteria and fungi
- Laboratory sterilization and aseptic techniques
- Microbiological water quality assessment and interpretation of microbial contamination

Bachelor's Thesis:

Isolation and identification of microorganisms in stream water in Owerri, Nigeria.

SKILLS

Digital skills

R programming (ecological data analysis, mixed-effects models, data visualization) | Microsoft Excel (data organisation, statistical calculations, pivot tables) | Scientific data analysis and visualization | Literature research using scientific databases | Basic Python programming

Laboratory and research skills

Ecological field sampling in freshwater ecosystems | Macroinvertebrate sample collection and processing | Environmental monitoring and sample processing | Statistical modelling of ecological datasets | Microbiological laboratory techniques

Organisational and interpersonal skills

Mentoring and academic guidance of international students | Teamwork in interdisciplinary research environments | Time management and research planning | Scientific communication and presentation

LANGUAGE SKILLS

Mother tongue(s): English | Igbo | Nigerian Pidgin

German

LISTENING: B1 READING: B1 WRITING: B1

SPOKEN PRODUCTION: B2

SPOKEN INTERACTION: B2

CONFERENCES & SEMINARS

[17/05/2026 - 21/05/2026] Maastricht, Netherlands

- Volunteer at the SETAC Europe Annual Meeting, an international conference on environmental toxicology and chemistry
- Assisted with conference organisation and participant coordination
- Attended scientific sessions on ecotoxicology, environmental chemistry, and risk assessment
- Networked with researchers and professionals in environmental science
